

You're invited to join us for this most exciting event.

Save the Date: Saturday, May 16, 2015

Sacramento Suburban Writers Club is celebrating our club's 60th Anniversary with a Banquet and Silent Auction for a Scholarship Fundraiser.

Whether you are a writer or an author, you should not miss out on sharing the evening with us. The whole event, including the ambiance of the room and the decor of our banquet should be delightfully entertaining, fun and educating.

Come commingle with us, enjoy a glass of wine (or not) and enjoy yourself for an evening amongst your local Sacramento writers and authors.

Our distinguished guest speaker will be bestselling author
Eileen Rendahl/Carr who writes suspense, paranormal and romantic comedy.
She has won multiple awards and has written twelve novels.

Ronald Goldman, a solo guitarist will entertain us with not only his guitar, but also the mandolin and ukulele during the Silent Auction, Networking and Cocktails. (No host bar).

Throughout dinner there will be five-minute theatrical recitations by local drama students of famous writers' works.

SSWC has prepared small gifts for every Member who attends the Celebration.

Celebration Begins at 5:00PM Sharp at The Old Spaghetti Factory 731 Sunrise Avenue, Roseville, CA. 95661 (Upstairs, elevator available)

Only $20, No payments at door. Deadline for Reservations is: May 11, 2015.

We hope to see you there!

You may prepay by credit card by going to our website: sactowriters.org and make your dinner selection at the same time. If you wish to pay with cash or check, contact Jeannie Turner at our SSWC meetings or online at turnerjeannie@yahoo.com
